DEDICATION

IT IS with deep appreciation of her indefatigable efforts that we, the class of June, 1937, dedicate our record book to Miss Ellen Yoder, our librarian. Our school has been singularly fortunate in possessing one of the finest high school libraries in the city, and no less fortunate in having so competent a person as Miss Yoder for our librarian. The smooth and efficient manner in which the library has functioned under Miss Yoder's guidance has long been a matter of pride to Olney students and has often been commended by visitors to our school. We realize the many difficulties of Miss Yoder's position. Hers has been the task of ministering to the literary likes and dislikes not merely of a class of fifty students, but rather of a student body of over five thousand individuals; and yet, reviewing the many happy hours we have spent in the library, we cannot recall an instance of Miss Yoder's failing to satisfy a student in his search for pleasure in books, nor can we remember a pupil who has not respected her the more for her sound judgment. It has been in the library, under the influence of Miss Yoder, that our friendship with books has been fostered, and that we have realized the part literature must play in our lives. Sensible of our indebtedness to Miss Yoder for all that she has contributed to our literary background, we sincerely hope that this volume may be a source of pleasure to her in years to come.

PREFACE

IN attempting to face squarely the problems of this world as graduates of high school, we fully realize the many trials and tribulations for which we must prepare ourselves. Cognizant, as we are, of the vicissitudes of life, we naturally do not fear the times when we shall be riding on the crest of the wave, but we are apprehensive of the times when we shall be struggling in the trough of that wave swelling ominously about us and threatening to engulf us at any moment. It is then, when the tide of life seems at its lowest ebb, that one must find some source of comfort. We feel sure that this source of comfort, to which we shall invariably turn, is literature. In selecting literature as the theme of our record book, we, the class of June, 1937, are anticipating the part books will play later in our lives, not only when unfortunate circumstances compel us to seek solace within their covers but also when we venture into its confines bent on pleasure at times when fortune has smiled upon us. Our interests in literature have been carefully nurtured at Olney, and it is certain they will stand us in good stead. In compiling this volume the "Trojan" editors have allowed literature to permeate naturally all parts of this book, just as literature permeates naturally all walks of life.

A TRIBUTE

EVERY book that is worth reading must have a theme, a purpose for having been written. Every life that is worth living should also have a theme or purpose. Every action worth doing should fulfill the same requirement. Our lives and our actions during our sojourn in high school have fulfilled that requirement. Our purpose has been to improve ourselves morally, mentally, and physically. We have striven to attain the ideals set for us in our reading.

You, Mr. Montanye, have constantly kept this goal before us, and aided us in our pursuit of it by providing, not only the ideals themselves, but also the knowledge necessary to attain those ideals. Your guiding hand, keeping our actions constant to our purpose and within the bounds of common sense, has given our life at Olney a unity without which it would have been practically worthless. Without this constancy of purpose, our book of high school life would have been merely a series of detached events. The adherence of the theme, however, has created coherence where chaos would otherwise have been present. We shall be eternally grateful to you for having so wisely guided our path, and we assure you in words of the Dane that:

" — thy commandment all alone shall live
Within the book and volume of our brains,
Unmixed with baser matter. —"

STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

WE are not only indebted to our books for our cultural development; we are likewise indebted to the advanced system of student participation in Olney which was offered us as an opportunity to apply the knowledge we gained from our books to our practical school life. We of Olney have received practical experience in conducting civil affairs and in solving civil problems. We have undertaken, along with the rest of the Students' Association, the responsibility of electing president, vice-president, senators, and representatives. We have been faced with the problem of selecting students who are best equipped for the Student Association offices. Such students have relieved teachers of all monitorial duties. Under the able guidance and inspiration of the Student Association sponsors—Mr. Oeste, Mr. Glenn, and Mr. Waidelich—the elected officers have had the added responsibility of acting on legislation concerning school welfare.

Hence we, the graduating class, do not feel that we are entering, inexperienced, into a world entirely foreign to us. Instead, we rather feel that we are entering a world similar to that which we have just left. It operates on a grander scale; its problems are far more complex; its demands are greater. But, because of our experience at Olney, we are not afraid to meet them.

STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

A SALUTE to the leaders! Even while devoting themselves to their studies, they have been able to pilot our ship of state safely into the port of the world's work. Previously, the members of our class gave strength to the crew, but, on this last leg of our educational voyage, they have held the responsibility of leadership. Nobly, indeed, has the task been done. The ability of our captain, Stephen Lax, has brought our vessel successfully across the bar. His sharp eye and steady hand has kept our ship from the rocks of disaster. The passengers are indeed grateful for the ability of their chief officer. Stephen rose with his crew, not from it, and we drop anchor with the knowledge that the class that follows us will have a high standard at which to aim.

We are grateful for the persevering and unsung labor that our ship's purser, Virginia Quimby, has given so gladly in her capacity as Secretary of the Students' Association. Virginia has held that position for many terms and has executed her office well.

We extend our thanks to the lower class officers of the Students' Association. We owe much of the success of the term to Ruth Ebert, our Vice-President. We will always remember Edward Kane, President of the Senate, who, though still a junior, is one of the most active boys in the school.

Senate

THAT select group, composed of some of the ablest students in each class, which acts as the executive committee of the House of Representatives, is known to us as the Senate. Beside considering all unfinished business of the House, the Senate has jurisdiction over a variety of other activities which they carry on in a commendable manner.

Funds for the School Beautiful Committee and Student Welfare are collected by the Senate. The baskets distributed at Christmas and Thanksgiving which bring such happiness to needy families are collected by its members. Senators are also well-known for their excellent work in reference to the planning of projects for the general welfare of the school. Mr. Glenn, by his unceasing efforts as faculty sponsor, has made of the Senate a school institution respected and honored in the hearts of the student body.

House of Representatives

WE, the class of June '37, pay a tribute of admiration to the House of Representatives. It is the body of students to which we gave our unhesitating faith; through the four years of our sojourn at Olney, we feel that our faith has been justified, and we are gratefully satisfied.

We wish, therefore, to express our gratitude to all who have given their time and effort to the furtherance of our interests and the interests of the school. Our appreciation is also due to the House of Representatives' able sponsor, Mr. Oeste, who has guided us with the finest leadership on the road of Student Participation.

12A COUNCIL

THE 12A officers and council under the capable sponsorship of Miss Stritzinger and Mr. Dorn are successfully fulfilling their responsibility. They are striving in every way possible to make their 12A projects, the Prom and the Class Movie, the best Olney ever had. We, the June graduating class, wish the "Lo Seniors" a most happy and successful Senior Year.

11B COUNCIL

THE 11B Council sponsored by Miss Stuart and Mr. O. D. Johnson has made a very fine start this term with such competent officers. The business matters of the class are few in the 11B term, since it is the first term for organization. However, with such a fine selection of officers, the class promises to be one of the best.

"THE BIG

THE BIG FOUR FATHERS ASSOCIATION desires to join the vast throng who are, at this time, extending greetings and congratulations to the Class of June, 1937.

For the benefit of the fathers of the entire student body, may I, as president of this organization, remind you that the membership of the Big Four Fathers Association is composed of men interested in the welfare of the girls and boys in the public schools. It is the only association of its kind in Philadelphia.

OUR OBJECTIVE

To stimulate the interest of the fathers in the activities of the students of the Olney High School, and the schools from which its students come.

FOUR''

A. To promote interest in:

1. Scholarships
2. Athletics
3. Clubs.

B. To increase friendliness among the fathers in order to secure a closer cooperation between the home and the school.

We, as Dads, are happy in the work we are striving to do for our youth. We are proud of what we have accomplished in the past and are ever looking forward to accomplishing even greater things in the future.

The greatest asset that we can have as individuals, or as an association, is the good will of those we have honestly tried to serve. If we strive to do that thing which we love to do a little better each day, this marvelous asset grows apace.

Adolph C. Ernst

SENIORS

CLAUDE SCHOENLY

THE present graduating class comes to the time when our connections with Miss Gable and Mr. Schoenly must be severed with a feeling of deep gratitude. We are grateful for the guidance and assistance they have given us during the past three terms. We have had before us the task of absorbing the knowledge contained in our text books. We had to understand the great works of literature, the theory and practice of problems in physics, algebra and chemistry. We had to become conscious of the great past and the more glorious future of our country through our social science classes. With all this work to prepare us for the future, without the help of Miss Gable and Mr. Schoenly, we should have had to forget the present. All thoughts of class, movies, dances and trips would have fallen by the wayside if preparation for them had been left to us alone. But our sponsors, freely giving of their own time, have helped us with all these projects. Although they, too, were concerned in the preparation of many students for the future, and although they, too, have out-of-school interests of their own, they gave unstintingly of their time and effort to make our present enjoyable and future secure. Theirs has indeed been a noble sacrifice, for they could hope for no reward other than the satisfaction of having done a job well. And done it well they surely have. To this reward the members of the graduating class of June '37 wish to add what weight our sincere and whole-hearted thanks can add. We ". . . can no other answer make, but, thanks,

MARTHA GABLE

Martha G Gable

And thanks, and ever thanks."

THE 12B

The 12B Class owes an incalculable debt of gratitude to their advisers. Taking us as Freshmen under their surveillance, they have successfully guided us through the four years of our high school education, inspiring us in times of despair and giving freely a wealth of intelligent advice when we were in dire need of it. They have unstintingly and quietly sacrificed their valuable time so that they might aid us to solve our troubles. They have aided us to become better and more intelligent citizens, both in school and in the world outside. They have established in us, by their sincerity and friendliness, a sense of responsibility and a determination to make successes of ourselves.

Imbued with this spirit of responsibility, we cannot, we must not, fail. For ever, through triumph and set-back, we will carry with us remembrances of their unsung sacrifices. Let us hope that we prove worthy of them. Let us hope that we succeed, for only by doing so, can we partially repay our debt to our loyal and beloved friends—the 12B Advisers.

12B COUNCIL

THE Council, a representative body, composed of one delegate from each advisory group, has ably assisted the executive officers in all matters of legislation. A large measure of the success of the Class of June 1937 is due to these people who gave unstintingly of their time and efforts in fulfilling the trust placed in them.

SUCCESS invariably depends upon superior leadership, and as we look back upon our terms as an organized class we find that our executive officers have had a great share in making our last years at Olney both profitable and successful. Upon their shoulders were placed numerous duties and responsibilities which they so competently administered. As the chosen few from so large a group, it was their obligation to execute their offices in the interest of those whom they represented and unquestionably they did so in an admirable manner.

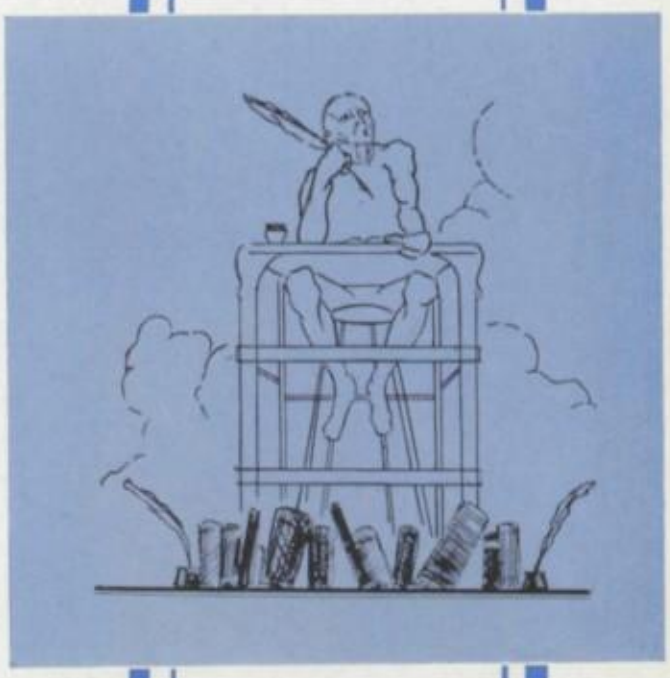
ACTIVITIES



SENIOR FRENCH CLUB

Olney has learned to look upon the Senior French Club as one of its most active organizations. It is of tremendous interest to all French students who wish to know more about the language which they study. Many prominent speakers address the club during the course of the term. Indeed, part of its success should be attributed to the enthusiastic guidance of Mr. Barrett.

GERMAN CLUB

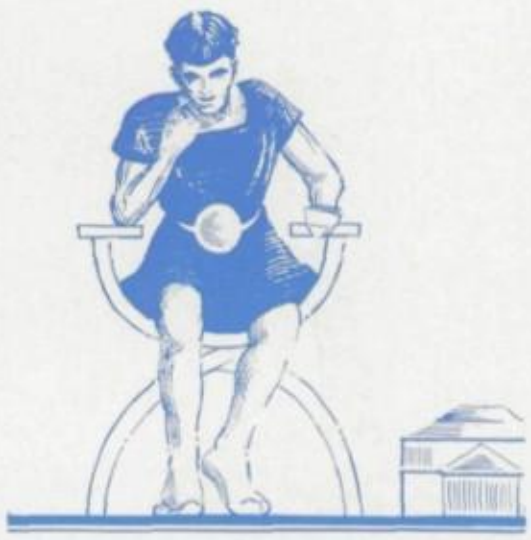
The German Club is one of the foremost organizations of Olney High and is under the sponsorship of Miss Samans. Its purpose is to devote attention not only to the language of Germany, but also to the customs and background of this civilization residing across the sea.

JUNIOR FRENCH CLUB

The Junior French Club, a very active society, includes the students who have studied French for two years. Many enjoyable afternoons are spent singing French songs and enacting little French plays. Mrs. Kruger and Miss Breazeale help to further the interests of our young French students.

NOS VIGINTI & RES ROMANA

The Nos Viginti, under Miss Easley, and the Res Romana, under Miss Coleman, are two very much alive units of Roman activity. In these two Latin clubs, the language, the government, and the every-day life of the Romans are again brought to life by discussion and, occasionally, by plays dealing with the ancients.



HI-Y GIRLS

The motto of the Girls' Hi-Y is "To create and maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." The girls are chosen on a basis of their scholarship, activities and popularity. Under the direction of Miss Stuart, their sponsor, the girls help in settlement work.

THEATER CLUB

A group of "Theater Go-ers," although not "First Nighters," constitute this club. Mr. Hurowitz, their sponsor, makes possible the fulfillment of their wishes by arranging for them to see the best legitimate plays that come to town. In the spring, at least two trips to the Hedgerow Theater in Rose Valley are made which the rest of the school are invited to join.

HI-Y BOYS

"To create and maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character and living" is the motto of the Boys' Hi-Y. The boys are chosen on the basis of their athletic ability, scholarship, high ideals, and through affiliation with some religious order. Mr. Weiler is their sponsor.

GENERAL SCIENCE CLUB

Under the capable guiding hand of Mrs. Langman, the members of the General Science Club are able to conduct an introductory research into the wide fields of biology, chemistry, and even into those of physics and astronomy. Very little specialization is done in these various departments, since the research is merely an introduction to further scientific work.

BIBLE CLUB

Chapter I.

For those students interested in reading, discussing and interpreting the Bible, the Bible Club, under Mr. Wetter, offers a splendid opportunity. Chapter I of this club is conducted for those students who are interested in the Old and New Testament.

LAW CLUB

The Law Club, where Mr. Schneeberg holds sway as Chief Magistrate, contains the embryo of the future "Bar." Mock trials are held in which the students take the parts of the prosecution, the defense and even the victims. In this way, the members have a chance to familiarize themselves with court-room procedure.

BIBLE CLUB

Chapter II.

Chapter II of the Bible Club is for those students interested only in the Old Testament. They start reading and discussing "Genesis" and continue on through "Kings" to "Malachi," the last book of the Old Testament. Mr. Wetter is their sponsor.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves is an organization which is an extension of the Y. W. C. A. The pledge of the Girl Reserves—"I will do my best to honor God, my country, and my community; to help other girls and to be in all ways a loyal true member of the Girl Reserves" speaks for itself. Their sponsor is Miss Orr, a member of the Germantown Y. W. C. A.

JUNE

PRIMI-TEN

It is the hope, dream, and ambition of every vocational art pupil to join the Primi-Ten as it is made up of the ten best artists of the school. The members are chosen on the basis of their merit which is judged by the work they send as applications for membership. Mr. McCann chooses the first five, and they in turn choose the other five.

POETRY CLUB

Under the wise and amiable sponsorship of Mr. Schleifer, this newly created organization has earned itself a place in the sun. This group comes together to read the poets and their works, to discuss what they have read, and, in general, to enjoy the great poetry of the ages.

PHI SIGMA GAMMA

Some future great sculptors may at present be getting their training in the Phi Sigma Gamma. The members work in clay, wood, or soap. Their projects include modeling clay and carving wood or soap into figures, faces and bas-relief masks. Mr. McCann trains their apt fingers to shape and mold delicately and skillfully.

LITERARY MAGAZINE CLUB

The Literary Magazine Club of Olney, sponsored by Mrs. Klein, is one of the cultural clubs of the school. The members bring out in printed form twice a year the best essays, stories and poems that have been produced in class or club during the term.

VOCAL ARTS

All the future Carusos, Galli-Curcis and Bing Crosbys have their do-re-mis tested and trained in this club. They practice, practice and practice the compositions they undertake in order to present them perfectly for assembly and for the personal satisfaction of Mr. Nitsche, their sponsor.

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

This organization, under the sponsorship of Miss Daley, is well known in the school for their entertaining offerings. Though being taken for granted as one of the delightful phases of school, were it to become non-existent its loss would soon be felt, so closely has it endeared itself to us. The Junior Dramatic Club has given us delightful plays in assembly and after school.

PEACE CLUB

This club, the first of its kind in Olney, is composed of students who are interested in engineering, maintaining and furthering the peace of the world. Their meetings, like all peace meetings, are stormy but extremely interesting. The meetings are heightened by generous speakers who take pleasure in addressing the club. Miss M. Mathews is the sponsor of the club.

MATHEMATICS

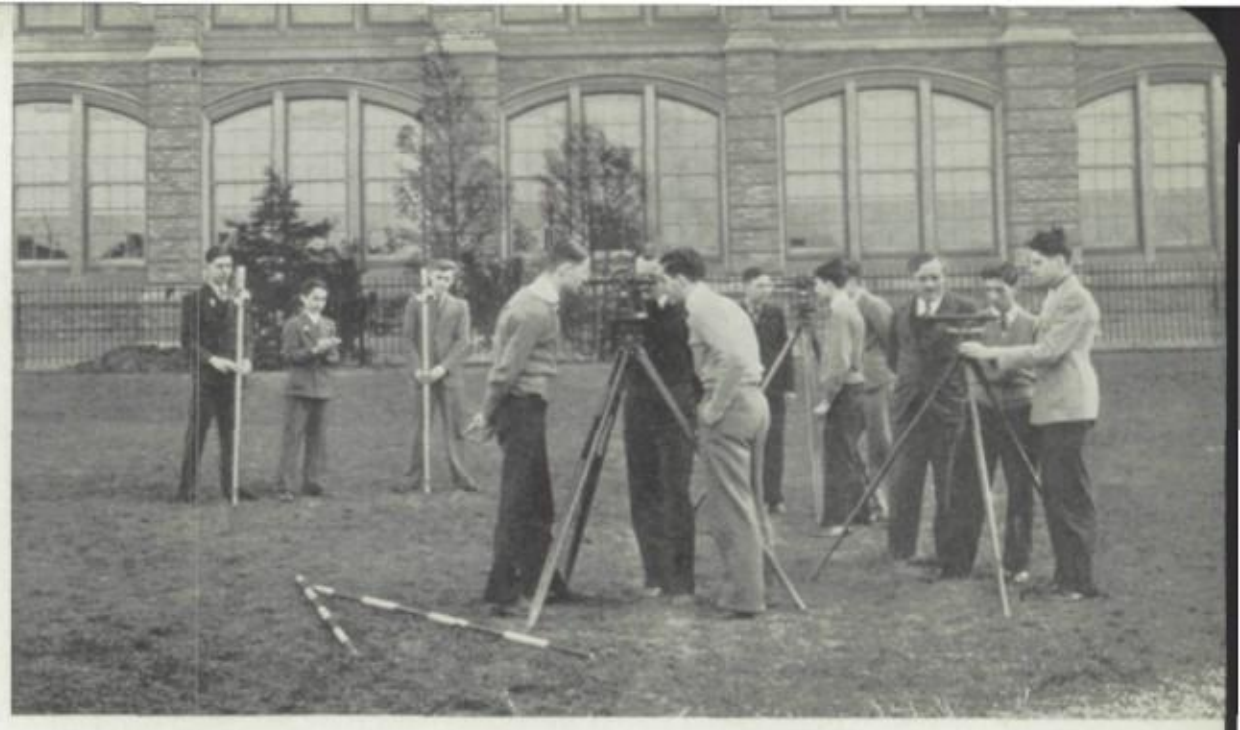
The five dimensions hold no terrors for these young Einsteins, who have become quite familiar with all types of numerical jig-saw puzzles. All sorts of difficult problems are made to seem just like Algebra 1 to those interested young mathematicians whom Mr. O. D. Johnson lures into the realms of higher, higher and still higher mathematics.

THE STAGE CREW AND LIGHTING STAFF

The stage crew and lighting staff are two of the least known groups in Olney, although their services are indispensable to our enjoyment of the assemblies and school plays. Their efforts have finally been rewarded; each of the members of these bodies has been presented with student activity awards. These they richly deserve. Many thanks, Stage Crew and Lighting Staff, for your fine work!

GIRLS' LEADER CLUB

The Girls' Leader Club is divided into two groups. One consists of the more experienced girls who help the teachers in the gym classes two periods or more a week, and in the other are the girls who are receiving the training necessary for this work. Not only must the girls be excellent gymnasts, but they are required to maintain a high scholastic rating as well.



SURVEYING

"If George Washington was a surveyor, why can't I be one?" is not, but might well be the motto of the Surveying Club. Here, under the direction of Mr. Blaker, all the boys who are interested in surveying are instructed in the use of its instruments. Actual problems are discussed and "surveyed-out."

STUDY HALL

Now, as never before, Study Hall is managed by the students in addition to being for the students. Through the wisdom of Mr. Wetter and Mr. Haupt, an executive committee has been organized under their direction which consists of the following members: Annaliese Wolff, Margrit Haas, Ruth Schweikart and Robert Steinberg. In addition to these students, two graduating pupils are on the committee; namely, Ann Kummer and Irene Stritzel. The latter two do all the clerical work while the former members participate in other phases of management. To quote Mr. Wetter: "Study Hall is now run 98 per cent by the students." Although we, the graduating class, have only enjoyed this freedom for a short time, we feel that it is a vast improvement and will continue to be for the school in general for a long time to come.

STAMP CLUB

In the Stamp Club, gather all amateur stamp collectors. Stamps are auctioned off and exchanged. In fact, a good stamp market has been created by Miss McCarthy, the sponsor, and her small, able band of stamp dealers. As this club is one of the new ones, let us wish it many rare stamps to add to its collection.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club offers an opportunity to superior students, interested in biology, to meet once a week and discuss their hobbies in this field of science, without the usual formalities that prevail in regular classroom work and minus the restrictions as to subject matter designed to cover certain required topics in the regular high school courses. The members are free to suggest appropriate programs in which each one is expected to actively participate at all times.

FARADAY CLUB

The Faraday Club is under the supervision of Mr. Miller and Mr. Hurwitz. These bold and lusty pioneers have blazed trails into our leading industrial and commercial houses. We, who have lent an attentive ear, have profited greatly by the learning they have passed on to us by means of the entertaining and instructive assemblies they have made possible for us to enjoy.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Olney's budding Einsteins have banded themselves, under the leadership of Mr. Fay, and delved into the great mysteries of the world of science. Through their experiments, they receive an education in chemistry which they could not hope to acquire in the classroom. Test tubes, retorts, varicolored chemical solutions and young scientists peering at a successful experiment with rapture in their eyes can be observed whenever the Chemistry Club meetings are under way. Fond memories will be cherished by all those of the senior class who were members of the Chemistry Club.

HISTORY CLUB

One of the old stand-bys of Olney High School is the History Club. Non-prejudiced, non-cynical, non-partisan, but not lacking in views concerning everything from "The Woman's Place in the Home" to the reason why Greyboy came in last at Santa Anita. Anyway, congratulations, Mr. Tomlinson.

WOODCRAFTERS' CLUB

All students who are interested in wood crafts are invited to join, but so far all feminine touch is lacking. The boys in this club undertake projects which are more difficult than those of the classroom. The helpful instruction of Mr. Brink, their adviser, plus their own initiative and ability, enables these boys to produce some very lovely pieces of work.

DEBATING SOCIETY

The Debating Society, under the capable direction of Mr. Oeste, has illustrated the fine results one can reap from the proper use of words and has made the pen which is "mightier than the sword" seem like an amateur.

DEBATING TEAM

Silence is not golden in this group; it is worthless. Under the coaching of Mr. Oeste, the "Pop" Warner of debating, these students have learned to use their words with such good effect that they now rank supreme in the Interscholastic Debating League. With Stephen Lax and Edward Kane as captains, this intellectual group has won fifteen consecutive debates. We are proud that our class has been largely responsible for this success, for the team loses through graduation Ivan Gilbert, Leonard Abrams, Bernard Miller, Henry Greaney and Walter Arons, as well as Captain Lax.

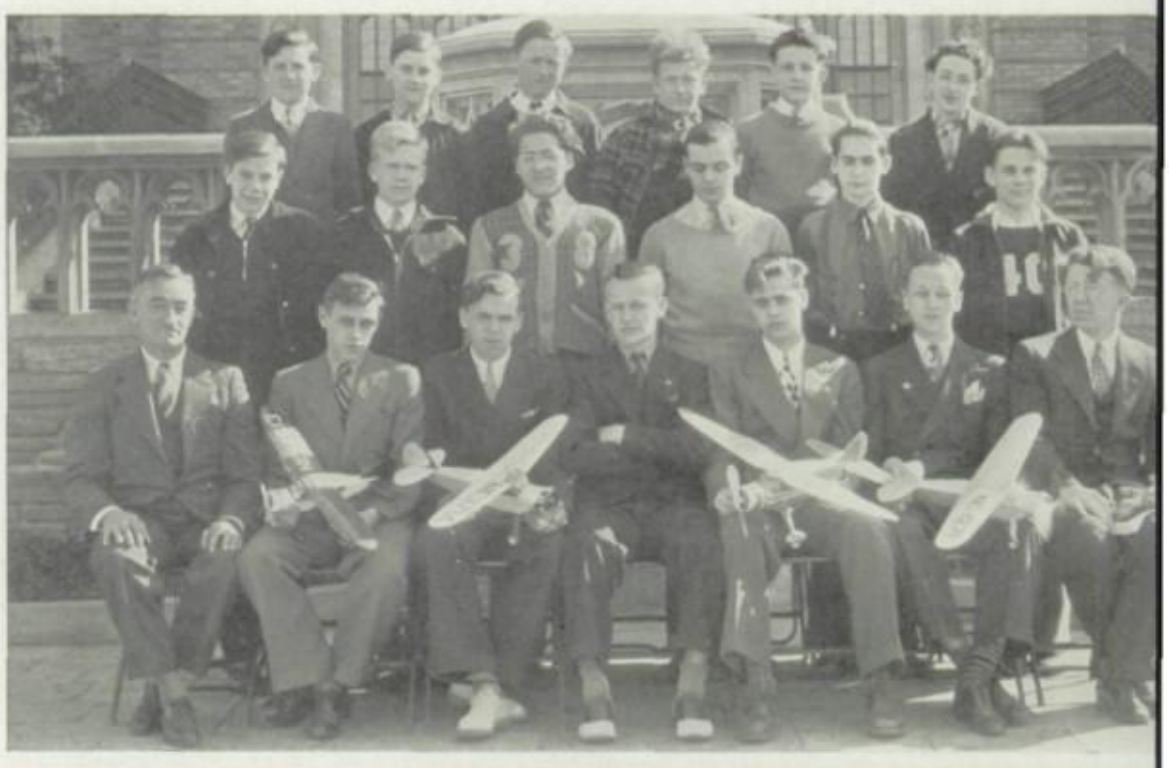
JUNE

COMMERCIAL CLUB

After visiting the Commercial Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Nadel, you will be inclined to agree that woman's place is no longer in the home. The efficiency and dispatch, displayed by the personable future captains of finance and industry, makes one sit up and take notice. The capabilities of this group are worthy of note.

AERO CLUB

The Aero Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Fritz, has proved worthy time and again of honorable mention. These future "skybirds" have the excellent habit of gathering trophies and will continue to add further to the glories of Olney High.



CHESS AND CHECKERS CLUB

Here at the Chess and Checkers Club, under the guidance of Mr. Benjamin, painstaking care, patience and strategy are rewarded. Their triumphs, as represented by the trophies they have earned, will forever remind Olney High School of the skill of these craftsmen.

BAND

Playing "Fight on Olney" the Band cheers on the battling Trojans. Responding to the swing of Mr. Nitsche's baton, it awakens school spirit and keeps it flowing. Its perfect notes and time are the result of much hard practice by the students and intensive training by its conductor, Mr. Nitsche.

HIGHLIGHTS EDITORIAL

"All the news that's fit to print."—This, in brief, describes the Olney Highlights. Its vivid, up-to-the-minute records of the goings-on at Olney have been one of the outstanding features of our scholastic life. The editors and staff, giving of their time and effort unsparingly, have succeeded in chronicling the news of the school in so fine a manner that, during our four years of attendance at Olney, we have looked forward with anticipation to the bi-weekly publication of the Highlights.

SALES REPRESENTATIVES

Hand in hand with the publication staff of the Highlights, stand the hundred-odd Highlights' Representatives, who, by their tireless efforts, have brought the Highlights to the students. "It's only a nickel, folks!" has rung in the ears of all of us every two weeks, as each representative proudly distributes his bundle of papers.

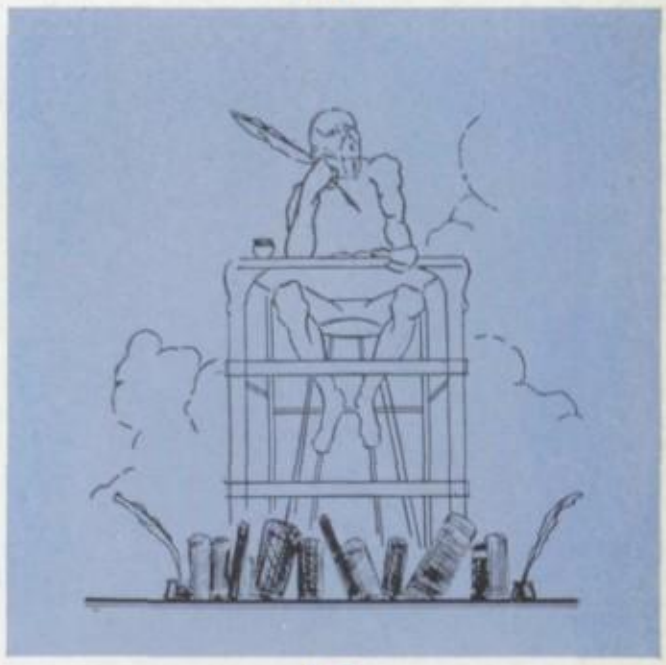
ATHLETICS



BOYS' BASKETBALL

Arnold Beinstein
Daniel Corcoran
Robert Dougherty
Francis Haney
Robert Herman
Paul Orndorf
Edward Rosenfeld
Richard Thomas

This year's Blue and White court team was one of Olney's best. Led by the acting Captain, fiery Reds Beinstein, Olney came out victorious in five league encounters, defeating Frankford, Northeast, Germantown, Central, and Gratz. Olney lost a heart-breaking encounter to West Philadelphia, was just nosed out by Overbrook, and went down fighting before a superior Ram's quintet. Because of the loss of Joseph Paget, a fighting Trojan, the Blue and White forfeited their last game to Roxborough. Coach DeTurk, starting with only one former varsity player, built a fighting, hustling aggregation of which all Olney was justly proud. Olney finished in a tie for fourth place with Northeast. Among those who will be graduated in June and who won varsity "O's" on the basketball team are Francis Haney, Paul Orndorf, Dick Thomas, and Bob Dougherty.

BOYS' BASEBALL

Roy Allen
Arnold Beinstein
Joseph Buckman
Sidney Devers
Peter Enderle
Wm. Fertman
Wm. Haber
Vincent Hink
Paul Langebartel
Clinton Root
Edward Rosenfeld
Richard Thomas
John Schock
Albert Zeichner

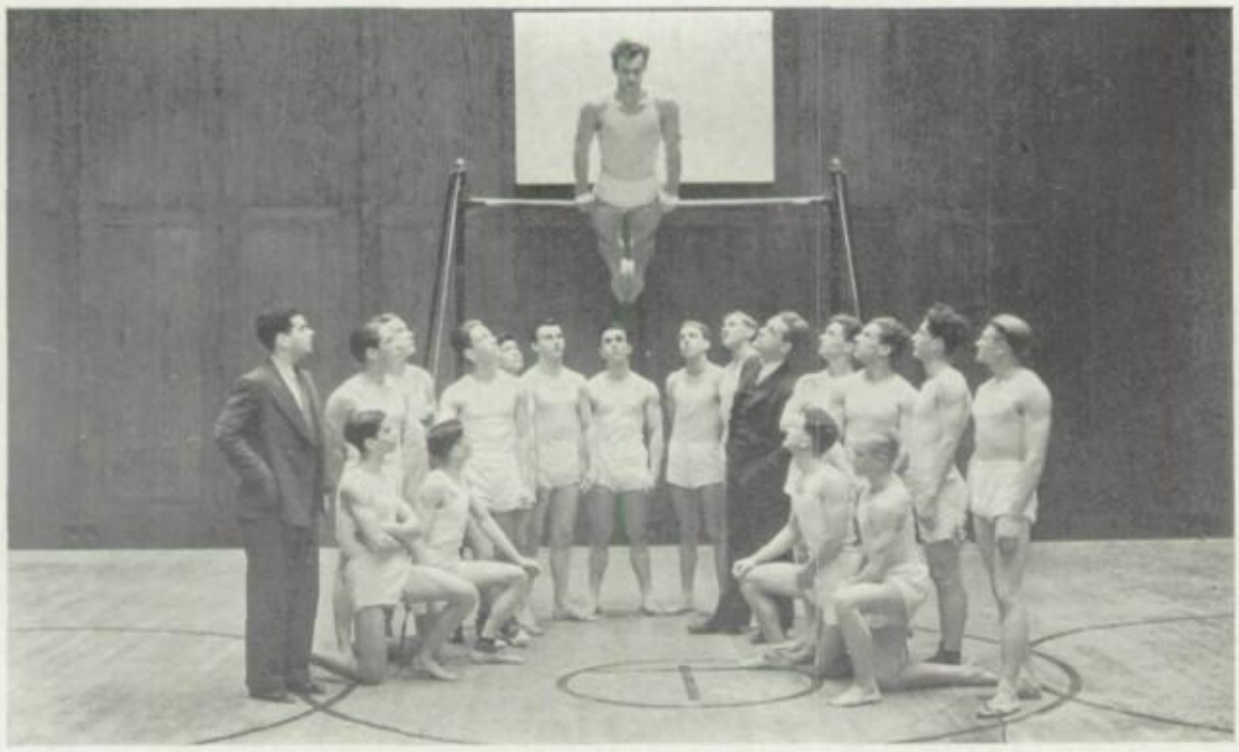
This year's baseball team bids fair to measure up to former Trojan standards. The Debusmen appear to be in for a very good season. Building around a nucleus of four returning veterans and several members of last year's reserve nine, Olney should battle for the title with Frankford, Southern, and West Philadelphia. The Blue and White beat Northeast Catholic 9-6, and tied with Penn Charter 2-2. Olney also won its first league encounter from Frankford 9-5. Missing from next year's Trojan nine will be Roy Allen, Reds Beinstein, Joe Buckman, Clinton Root, Dick Thomas, Pete Enderle, and Al Zeichner.

BOYS' TRACK

Arthur Bergey
Walter Coles
Joseph Boyle
Edward Blackwell
Walter Graff
Robert Flemming
Richard Hall
Robert Heisler
Howard McGhee
Joseph McCleary
Frank Nolan
Stephen Kerr

Olney's track team has, this year, the use of our new cinder track for practice. The team is developing into a hustling fighting squad which, although their chances of winning the title are slim, will be fighting their hardest for Olney. The foes of this year's cindermen will know they have been in a battle. Coach Tierney is depending on Ed Blackwell, Bob Heisler, Harry Philips, Frank Nolan, Barclay Knorr, Ray German, Walt Graf, and John Kaufman as the mainstays of the team. The team will probably finish higher than last year's fifth place.

GYM TEAM



Once again Olney had a gym team of which it may well be proud. The Weilermen dropped only one league meet, that to Southern, this year, but made up for that by finishing first in the championships at Penn. The performance of John Wolf showed that he is undoubtedly the best schoolboy gymnast in the city. He again won the city individual title. Coach Weiler will sorely miss Bill Fennin, Jack Crawford, Harry Franke, John Wolf, Art Bergey, Joseph Himmelsbach, James Schall, Reuben Goldman, Jack Delaney, and Bill Daminger, who will be graduated this June.

TENNIS TEAM

Stanley Weinfeld
Alvin Siegel
Stephen Lax
Ray Kasser
Ray Brandau
William Roth
Robert Harris

With four veterans returning from last year's tennis squad, which was the best ever to take the court for Olney, this year's team promises to be a winning aggregation. Considering that many of last year's stars of the various high schools have graduated, Coach Grimsley's task to build a title winner will be easier. Olney competes in both the Public High League and the Interscholastic League against strong opposition, so it will be a real feat if either title rests in our trophy cases this year.

GOLF TEAM

Charles Carson
Joseph Ithen
Stephen Kerr
Walter Kordwitz
Martin Kuhn
Albert Schillinger
Clifton Smiley
George Tondorf

Olney's golf team prospects appear very promising. The three returning veterans, Kerr, Kuhn, and Ithen, will play the one, two, and four positions respectively with George Torndorf, a newcomer, taking care of the number three position. Coach Weiler is not predicting the title for Olney, but he is confident that Olney will give a very good account of itself. Olney lost to Overbrook High School 10½-4½ in a very close meet. Those representing the 12B class on Coach Weiler's squad are Kuhn, Ithen, Torndorf, Smiley.

GIRLS' BASEBALL

On Monday, April 12th, Coach Anna K. Liese sounded the first call for girls' baseball. An enthusiastic group of sixty responded, and the girls' gym was alive with discussions about positions, hopes for league victory, and there were more than a few inquiries concerning a reliable muscle liniment.

Althought the season's schedule has not been made up, it will undoubtedly include encounters with the other two league members, Roxborough and Kensington High Schools.

The team will not be selected until several practices have been held, but seven members of last year's squad reported, and no doubt they will see varsity action this season. They are: Lois Ashman, Alberta Worst, Caroline Good, Dorothy Sivitz, Virginia Winpenny, Eleanor Eifferman, and Anita Goldberg.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Marjorie Raiguel (First Captain)
Doris Kane (Second Captain)
Doris Nibauer (Manager)

Louise Miller
Lorraine Heineman
Marie Kistenmacher
Dorothy Carlin
Mary Martin
Gertrude Lusch
Helen Morris

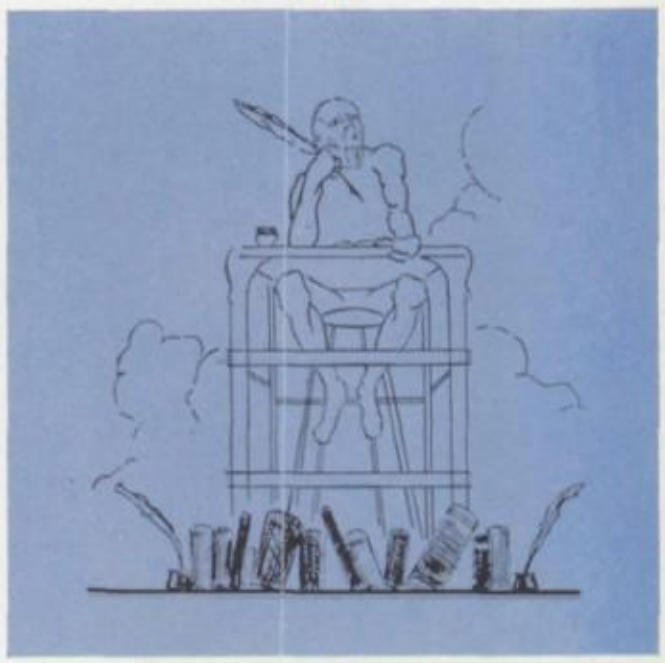
For the first time in many seasons Olney's Trojanettes did not garner the league championship. A team composed almost entirely of newcomers tied one league game and lost the remainder by close margins. Other members of the Miniature League are Kensington and Roxborough High Schools, each of which plays two games with the Olney girls. The Blue and Whiters also met Hallahan and West Catholic High teams in contests which were chiefly practice games, as these members of the Catholic League are widely known for their prowess.

The new two-court system, which requires great skill and technique, made its debut this year in Olney.

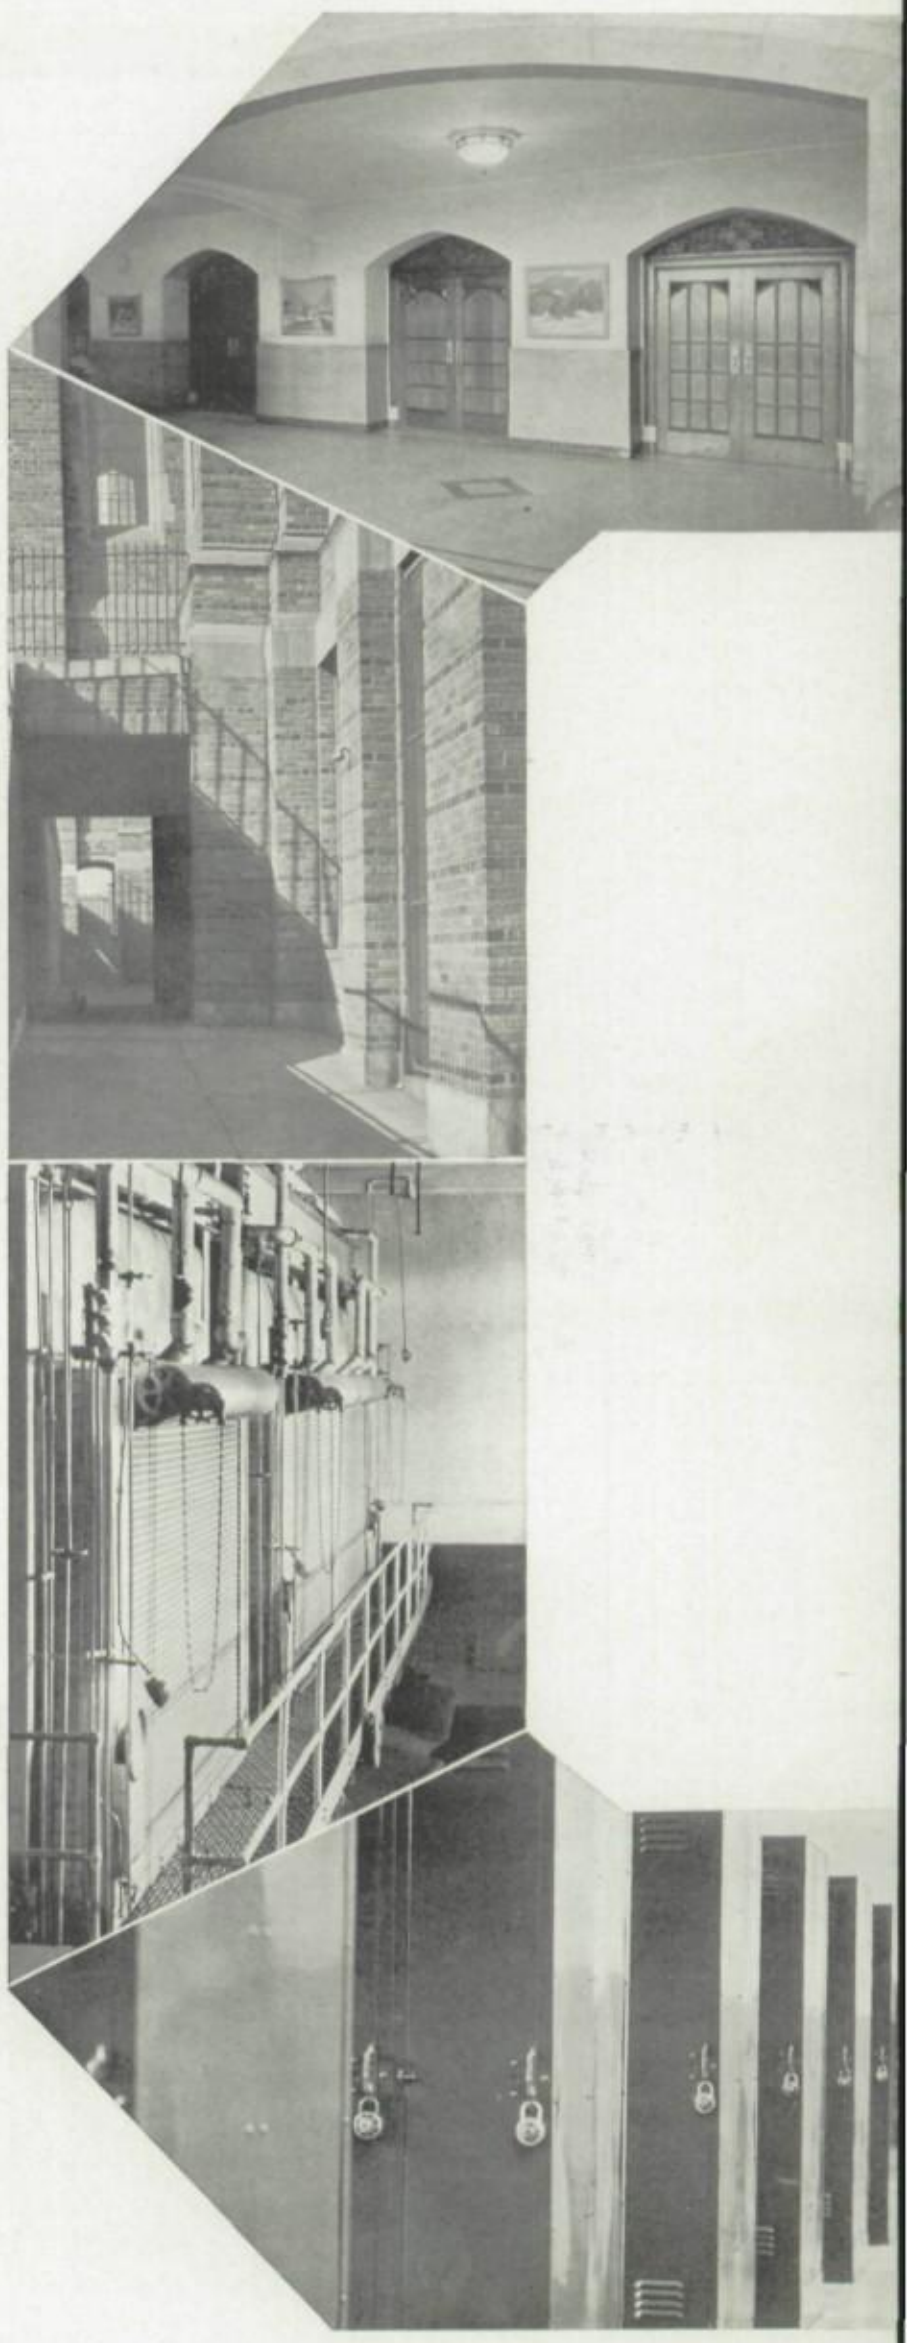
Coach Anna K. Liese is looking forward to a successful season next year as practically all of the present varsity squad will return.

Captain Marjorie Raiguel, star defense player, and Virginia Patton will be graduated in June.

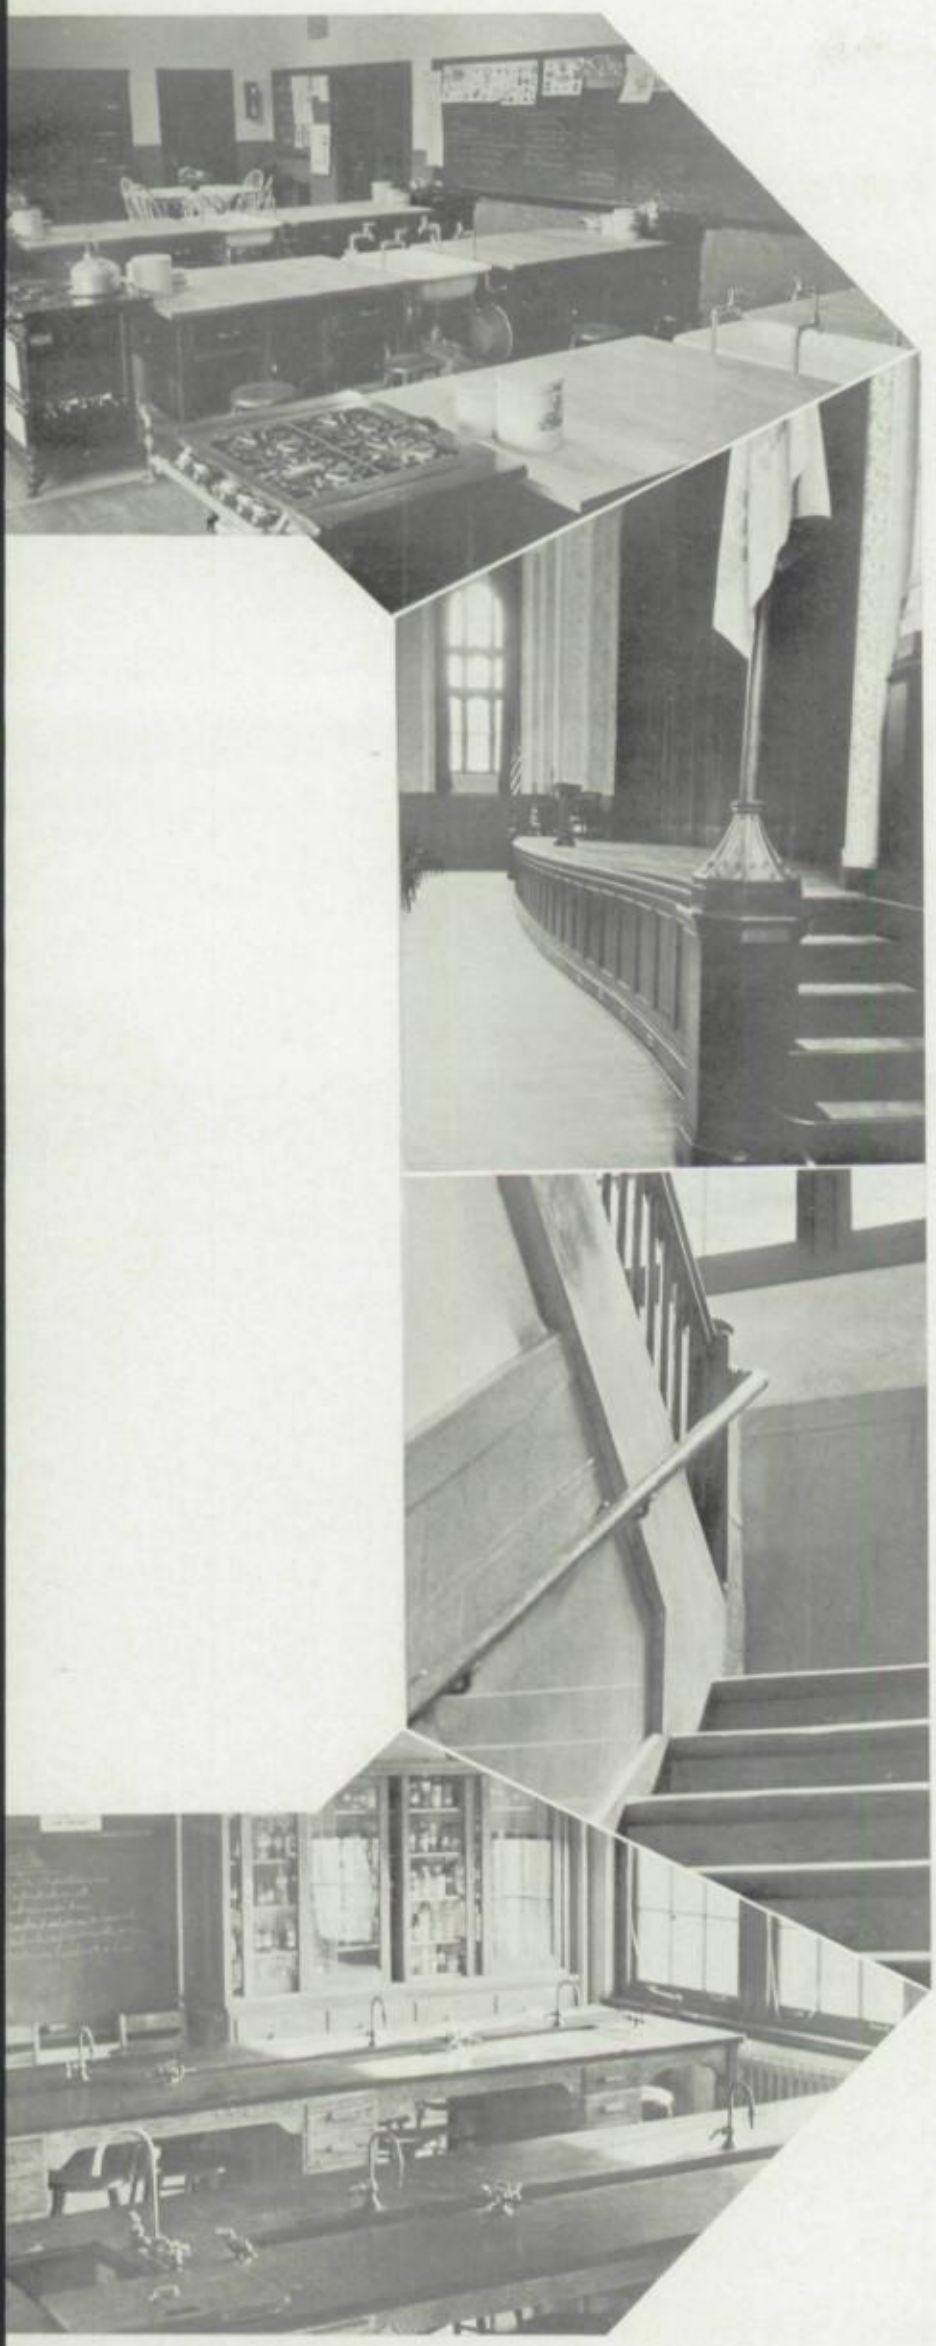
FEATURES

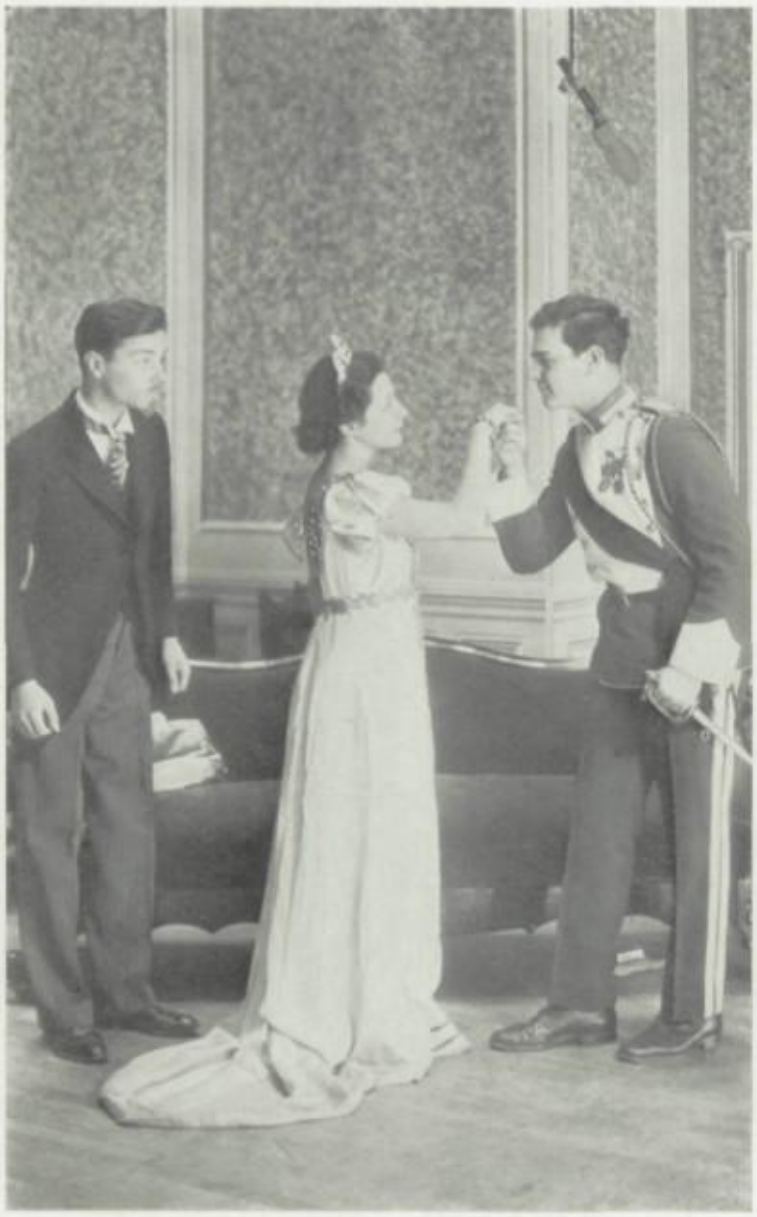


JUNE



1937





THE

"The play's the thing," was indeed true on the memorable Olney Play Nights of December 11th and 12th, the evenings on which Olney's Thespians presented in almost a professional manner the popular stage and screen play, "The Queen's Husband." The characterizations were most excellently done, the role of the Queen being admirably enacted by Marjorie Evans, that of Frederick Granton by Frank Pollard in a most engaging manner, and the roles of

QUEEN'S HUSBAND

Lord Birten, Major Blent, and Petley being played by capable Ivan Gilbert, Lewis Atlas, and Gladys Bowers respectively. The cast through the skilled direction of Mrs. Dorothy B. Crawford gave a fine performance. Assuredly, few of us who saw "The Queen's Husband" will forget this great achievement in the Olney field of dramatic art. Surely it will go down in Play Night history as one of the most excellent of all productions.

VILLAGE FROLIC

APRIL
23-24

THE VILLAGE FROLIC

On the evenings of April 23rd and 24th Olney reached a new height of excellence in entertainment by the presentation of "The Village Frolic." Again the show was under the direction of Mrs. Crawford, the dancing and singing being coached by Miss Green and Miss Henry. Several conspicuously fine features of "The Village Frolic" were the Fairies' Dance, the enactment of "Pyramus and Thisbe" by the Artisans, and the medieval French opera, "Robin and Marion." Many prominent Seniors had principal roles in the cast; Clayton Hill as "Oberon," Gladys Bowers as "Titania," Leonard Abrams as "Bottom (Pyramus)," Lester Levy as "Flute (Thisbe)," William McClellan as "Quince," Ivan Gilbert as "Starveling," Edna Sloan as "Queen Elizabeth," Hugh Sweeney as "Robin," and Josephine Deitrich as "Peronelle." Praise should also go to the dancers and the chorus who helped to make "The Village Frolic" the great success that it was.

Another year has passed in triumphant glory, leaving in its wake two enviable accomplishments as proof of Olney's superb showmanship. We, the June class of '37, in our departure, look back with pride.

SENIOR

TIME:

Friday Evening, January 29, 1937.

SCENE:

Mercantile Hall.

ORCHESTRA:

Dave Hillerson's Royalists.

OCCASION:

The eleventh graduating class presenting the Senior Prom!

AH yes, the Senior Prom. Who could forget that memorable night, when the senior lads and lassies of Olney stepped out of their dignified and studious roles and became frivolous and charmingly daring at the Senior Prom?

PROM

Didn't everyone look grand? The girls were very beautiful in their new evening dresses adorned with corsages of orchids, gardenias, and roses. And the boys, pardon me, the men, looked very handsome (and maybe a little stiff) in their new tuxedos, with boutinieres of gardenias or carnations. These are pleasant memories which will not soon be forgotten by any of us. The newest, intricate dance steps were exhibited after many weeks of practice. Classroom pals became better acquainted while dancing to the harmonious strains of the Royalists. Our charming co-sponsor, Miss Gable, was there accompanied by our other sponsor, Mr. Schoenly and Mrs. Schoenly.

At the stroke of one the revelry of the too short evening came to a close. A gay "See you at Linton's," and a sad "See you in Algebra," were among the many parting remarks before the final good night of our very successful Senior Prom.
